Bonjour Tristesse English

Bonjour Tristesse is a novel by Françoise Sagan, published in 1954 and set against the translucent beauty of France in summer. It is a bittersweet tale narrated by Cécile, a seventeen-year-old girl on the brink of womanhood whose meddling in her father's love life leads to tragic consequences.

Cécile is a decadent young girl who lives with her rich playboy father, Jean Seberg. The novel explores themes of love and sexuality in early 20th-century France. It has been translated into multiple languages including French, English, and German, and has been adapted into several films.

The novel was an international sensation when published in Paris in 1954 and released in English in 1955. It is considered to be Sagan's debut novel and brought her widespread acclaim.

By the end of the 20th century, Bonjour Tristesse had been translated into several different languages and became a staple of French literature. It remains a popular and influential work today.
