A skydiving C license is a step higher than the B license. A C license holder can do all of the things listed under A and B, and is also eligible to get their USPA instructor rating. Though not the tandem rating, they can also be a passenger on a USPA tandem instructor training course and rating renewal jumps and can participate in certain more. USPA membership holds a USPA coach or instructor rating from another dispatching discipline (IA/D or USPA tandem). USPA C license accumulates a total of 6 hours of freefall time held a USPA coach rating for a year or have a total of 500 jumps complete required USPA AFF proficiency card requirements. USPA coaches offer the full gamut of skydiving ratings, including coach certification courses and accelerated freefall instructor certification courses. USPA offers pre courses re currency for expired ratings, static line instructor courses, instructor assisted deployment instructor courses, tandem instructor courses, and more.

USPA issues four skydiving licenses: A through D, indicating progressive levels of skill and accomplishment. USPA A license is an entry-level license. USPA licenses remain current with membership and are recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale (FAI), which sets the training and licensing standards for skydivers in the USA. Anyone wishing to skydive solo must start by enrolling in a training program which culminates in earning the initial A license from the USPA. Fulfilling the pre-requisites of the USPA static line proficiency card, the student has successfully completed the A license check dive and answered all questions correctly on the exam the certifying USPA instructor may sign the student's USPA A license proficiency card or USPA A license progression card (ISP) which validates the A license for a 60-day time limit following the completion of the card. The completed and signed USPA A license proficiency card or USPA A license progression card must be validated within 60 days of completion by sending the card to USPA headquarters.
